

CANTILEVER BRIDGE OVER ST. LAWRENCE, NEAR QUEBEC, COLLAPSE OF WHICH RESULTED IN DEATH OF 84 MEN

Drawing Shows the Great Structure Which When Finished Was to Have Been a Monument to American Bridge-Builders' Skill.

FISH-HARAHAN BOUT MAY BE CONTINUED

Resolutions Expected to Come Up at Annual Meeting.

Victor Says There's More Ways Than One of Skinning Skunk.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Wall Street is still getting as much enjoyment out of the Fish-Harahan distillations as when it first heard that the former president of the Illinois Central had knocked down the present president at a meeting of the directors. There was much speculation as to what will happen when the two meet at the annual meeting late in September.

It is known that Mr. Fish will insist then on reading the resolution Mr. Harahan cut short because of which Mr. Harahan called Mr. Fish a liar and was struck. It is understood that these resolutions are couched in plain language; that they express a wish to know how it happens that the rough summary of the Illinois Central's annual reports can possibly show an increase of net earnings in view of the general increase of wages, and suggest the advisability of the directors making an investigation to see if the increase is real or only on paper. These are questions Mr. Fish wants answered and he is bound they will be answered.

But Two Copies of Resolutions.

There are but two copies of the resolutions. Mr. Fish has the original and Alexander G. Hackstaff, secretary at Wednesday's meeting, has the copy which Mr. Fish was reading when Mr. Harahan ordered an adjournment. "There is a copy of the resolutions of the paper from which I was reading at the meeting at the offices of the company," said Mr. Fish. "I shall positively not give it out for publication or discuss it. If the officers of the company see fit to make it public that is their business."

Mr. Fish was in the best of humor. His telephone was busy with friends congratulating him and asking him to whip Mr. Harahan. Some wanted him to let them know, it was said, when he intended to give the Harahan a whipping. Notes of congratulation were delivered by messengers, by mail, and by telephone.

Mr. Fish was asked, after he had refused to make public his resolutions, if he intended to make use of them in the future.

"There is more than one way of skinning a skunk," he answered, with a smile.

All Quiet on Battlefield.

It is as quiet as a monastery in the offices of the Illinois Central. It was suggested there that if anybody wanted to know why Mr. Harahan left New York wearing the peak of a cap pulled low over his eyes he had better telephone or telegraph him at his Chicago office.

With Golet there was an "also-ran" among the directors. Charles F. Peabody, president of the Mutual Life, did not stay to see Mr. Fish and Mr. Harahan come together. Of the spectators it was learned on good authority none tried to separate the combatants, but contented themselves with exclaiming: "Stop gentlemen!" and "Oh, shame! It would appear that Mr. Fish let go of Mr. Harahan when he got good and ready."

Sporting Extra! Trainer Whips Man He Taught!

(From the New York Evening World.) One of the briskest heavyweight bouts that has taken place around the old town this season was pulled off at the Illinois Central A. C. when "Sty" Fish, better known as the "Bony Shad" of Newport, L. I., knocked out Jimmy Harahan, the "Illinois Dumbbell," in the second round.

The "go" was witnessed by a crowd of well-known lovers of the manly art of self-defense as practiced in the local realm of friskiana. The winner at once issued a challenge to meet Shrimp Harizan, the Wall Street champion, at catch weights.

Behind Closed Doors.

For fear of outside interference the fight was held behind closed doors in the big clubhouse and home of aquatic sports, at 11 Broadway. Among those noticed about the ringside were Alec Hackstaff, the "Human Caboose," "Sailor" Con Vanderbilt, "Wal" Lutgen, and "Mutual Life" Peabody, who beat "Parson" McCurdy, so handsily in the famous battle of year before last.

Fish was seconded by "Johnny" Cutting, the Lenox Lemon, while the fat scrapper from Chicago had in his corner Chippy "Bob" Golet, the sparrow-weight. Golet attracted some attention by carrying the bottle in one hand and a shower bouquet in the other.

"Veteran" Beach, the retired slugger, was the referee.

Wall Street Rules.

After short preliminaries the two men came to the middle. It was announced that hitting in clinches, gouging, biting behind the ear, and stabbing in the back

ICE MAN FINED; SHY ON WEIGHTS

Judge Scores Prisoner As a Robber of Helpless Public.

Judge Mulowny this morning found Henry Armstead, colored, an employee of the American Ice Company, guilty of selling short weight in ice and fined him $50 or thirty days.

In passing sentence upon the defendant, his honor scored the man, "who by using fraudulent scales, robs a helpless public."

E. S. Statton, the witness for the prosecution, stated that he had been sold thirty-two pounds of ice for 50c.

would be permitted, in accordance with the regular Wall Street rules. The Bony Shad looked to be in the pink of condition. It was the opinion of those who saw him put down and out in his celebrated fight with "Shrimp" Harahan some months ago that the Rhode Island boy had come back. He wore the Swedish colors, which were said to have been left at his training quarters in Newport lately by a Scandinavian admirer.

Appearance Disappointment.

The appearance of the Chicago entry was a disappointment to his backers. He was very fat, the flesh hanging in rolls about his neck. However, he was plainly the favorite of a majority of the spectators. For a belt he wore about his waist a black flag loaned by "Pier" Morgan.

Round 1.—Fish led off with a short-arm jab by referring to Harahan as a fool. "The Dumbbell countered with the word liar, which fell short. Fish pushed the lighting, swinging right and left jabs to the point of impoliteness. Harahan countered cleverly, showing the shifty footwork and the ability to dodge and change corners which has characterized him in the past. The round ended with honors easy.

Round II—Was Sharp.

Round 2.—Sharp fighting marked the decisive second round from the tap of the bell. Fish jumped right in. He shot his right to the place where the "Dumbbell's" waistline would be if he owned one, burying his arm to the elbow in suet. Dazed and groggy, the Illinois bruiser staggered back, trying with both hands to recover his breath. It eluded him. The relentless "Shad" pressed him, aiming a perfect whirlwind of clouds and punches at his opponent. He couldn't miss him. It was like beating a carpet.

Under the grueling, blood began to flow from the Dumbbell's nose. The blood was of a bright straw color flecked with green. It was plain that the bulky giant was in distress.

Suddenly the shifty Yankee lad landed the Buccaneer wallop, stepped back, and then, fair and true, there fell on the Dumbbell's jaw Sty's favorite blow—the celebrated Buccaneer Wallop.

The battle was as good as over. Harahan went down like a falling market. He lay there, flat, still, and helpless as inter-met stock. His fingers worked convulsively, like Chicago and Alton quotations.

Slowly "Vet" Beach counted ten. The fallen gladiator lay still. The Illinois Dumbbell had been vanquished by his old trainer.

ANOTHER WAY TO PUT IT.

A little tuppence now and then Plays havoc with the best of men.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

It's a Good Time now to see what a good "staying" breakfast can be made without high-priced

Meat

TRY

A Little Fruit,

A Dish of Grape-Nuts and Cream,

A Soft-Boiled Egg,

Some Nice, Crisp Toast,

Cup of Postum Food Coffee.

That's all and all very easy of digestion and full to the brim with nourishment and strength.

REPEAT FOR LUNCHEON OR SUPPER and have a meat and vegetable dinner either at noon or evening, as you prefer.

We predict for you an increase in physical and mental power.

"There's a Reason."

Read the "Little health classic,"

"The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

DEATH RECORD GROWS IN QUEBEC DISASTER

(Continued from First Page)

the way of recovering bodies. No list of names of the dead has been compiled or even started, no steps have been taken to explore the great mass of broken and twisted steel that stretches out to midstream on the St. Lawrence. Even the care of the wounded, the real sufferers snatched from death, under the crash of the thousands of tons of steel and iron, has devolved upon outsiders.

Greatest Bridge In Whole World, Engineers' Plan

The Quebec bridge, when completed, would have been the greatest cantilever bridge in the world, and more wonderful in many respects than the huge cantilever bridge over the Firth of Forth in Scotland.

The cost of the structure complete was to exceed $10,000,000 and about $5,000,000 has already been expended. The concrete work alone, which has been completed for nearly three years, and for which 40,000 barrels were used, cost about $2,000,000.

It took more than fifty years of agitation on the part of the business men of Quebec to get the bridge under way, and it was finally started under one of the provisions of Canada's articles of confederation, which provided that the city should be connected with the maritime provinces.

The original plans for the bridge were prepared in 1861, but it was not until 1889 that the actual work of raising funds for the construction of it was begun, and then only after untiring efforts on the part of the men who realized the necessity for the bridge.

Large Sums Appropriated.

The government finally granted $1,000,000 for the inception of the work, with the promise that another $1,000,000 would be forthcoming within a short time, and with the understanding that similar sums would be appropriated when needed.

Large sums were appropriated by the legislature of Quebec and the city council, and the then mayor, Parent, of Quebec, was made president of the company. The other necessary funds were to be raised by the issuance of bonds.

All of the contracts for the bridge were made as early as the end of 1892. Those for the iron and steel work, which were estimated would weigh 40,000 tons, were awarded to the Phoenix Bridge Building Company of Philadelphia, and the contract for the masonry work was awarded to the M. P. Davis Company of Cardinal, Ontario.

The total length of the bridge when completed was to have been 3,000 feet, or a little over two-thirds of a mile. The cantilever span of the structure was planned to be 1,800 feet long. The center span was to be 150 feet above the water, and the height of the cantilevers above the top of the masonry piers, 350 feet.

The masonry foundations of the bridge consisted of two abutments, one on each side of the river; two water piers at the ends of the great center span, and two anchor piers each 400 feet away from its neighboring abutment and 500 feet from the nearest deep-water pier. All of the piers were gigantic in size, and each of the deep-water piers re-

STARVING RODENTS ATTACK CHINAMEN

More Than 400 Rats Killed in Terrific Battle of Two Hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—More than a thousand famished rats attacked a Chinese fishing camp and were not vanquished until more than 400 of them had been killed in a battle that lasted two hours.

The rats lived in a dock and recently a Chinese fisherman, being annoyed by them, plugged every hole in the dock. That was a week ago and the rats, after having nothing to eat for the entire week, gnawed their way through the planks. They then attacked a Chinaman, who would have been killed had the camp not been aroused.

The Chinese fought the rodents with clubs, but they would not be driven off until nearly half of them had been killed. George Agnew, hearing the racket, thought a riot was in progress. He organized a posse and hurried to San Pedro Point, where he found the Mongolians fighting like demons. A number of them were bitten.

The rats lived in a dock and recently a Chinese fisherman, being annoyed by them, plugged every hole in the dock. That was a week ago and the rats, after having nothing to eat for the entire week, gnawed their way through the planks. They then attacked a Chinaman, who would have been killed had the camp not been aroused.

The Chinese fought the rodents with clubs, but they would not be driven off until nearly half of them had been killed. George Agnew, hearing the racket, thought a riot was in progress. He organized a posse and hurried to San Pedro Point, where he found the Mongolians fighting like demons. A number of them were bitten.

MOTORBOAT DAMAGED UNDER JAMESTOWN ARCH

* NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 30.—Passing under the archway to the government exposition pier, the power yacht Zoraya, owned by Dr. Anthony Schneider, of New York, struck the temporary works supporting the mold over which the arch was built, and narrowly missed destruction, with her owner and crew of ten men.

The yacht lost both masts, her house was badly shattered, and half a dozen stanchions were twisted.

DIES FROM EMOTION; AGED WOMAN VICTIM

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Dean Holt, a richly dressed woman of seventy, fell dead in the place of business of J. A. Heffernan, 23 East Forty-second street, her death being caused by a shock, or deep emotion, which induced apoplexy. The affair has assumed a mysterious quality, and the police and coroner are investigating it.

Mr. Heffernan, who once lived in Cambridge, had received a telephone call and a letter from a woman who asked if he had ever lived there. Finally Mrs. Dean called and after a short conversation, showed him a photograph.

"There," she exclaimed, "I'd you ever see that woman before?" The man was taken by surprise. He reached out for the card and scanned the features.

"Do you know her?" demanded the old lady. "Never saw her in my life," replied the astonished man. "You do not know her?" "Certainly not, madam."

"But," she insisted, "Mr. Thomas told me that—"

The sentence was never finished. The aged woman staggered, half turned, and fell in a heap on the floor. Foam gathered upon her lips, her limbs twitched. She was dead.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

A good liniment or plaster, or some good home remedy will usually give temporary relief from the pain of Rheumatism, but the disease is more than skin deep and cannot be rubbed away, nor can it be drawn out with a plaster. Such treatment neither prevents nor cures; the excess of acid, which produces Rheumatism, is still in the blood and the disease can never be cured while the circulation remains saturated with this irritating, pain-producing uric acid poison. The trouble will shift from place to place, settling on the nerves and causing pain and inflammation at every exposure or after an attack of indigestion or other irregularity. When neglected or improperly treated, Rheumatism becomes chronic and does not depend upon climatic conditions to bring on an attack, but remains a constant, painful trouble. S. S. S. drives out Rheumatism by neutralizing and expelling the excess of acid from the blood. It purifies and invigorates the circulation so that instead of an acid-laden stream, constantly depositing uric acid in the joints, muscles, nerves and bones, the entire system is nourished and made healthy by rich, life-giving blood. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired will be sent free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

STARVING RODENTS ATTACK CHINAMEN

More Than 400 Rats Killed in Terrific Battle of Two Hours.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—More than a thousand famished rats attacked a Chinese fishing camp and were not vanquished until more than 400 of them had been killed in a battle that lasted two hours.

The rats lived in a dock and recently a Chinese fisherman, being annoyed by them, plugged every hole in the dock. That was a week ago and the rats, after having nothing to eat for the entire week, gnawed their way through the planks. They then attacked a Chinaman, who would have been killed had the camp not been aroused.

The Chinese fought the rodents with clubs, but they would not be driven off until nearly half of them had been killed. George Agnew, hearing the racket, thought a riot was in progress. He organized a posse and hurried to San Pedro Point, where he found the Mongolians fighting like demons. A number of them were bitten.

The rats lived in a dock and recently a Chinese fisherman, being annoyed by them, plugged every hole in the dock. That was a week ago and the rats, after having nothing to eat for the entire week, gnawed their way through the planks. They then attacked a Chinaman, who would have been killed had the camp not been aroused.

The Chinese fought the rodents with clubs, but they would not be driven off until nearly half of them had been killed. George Agnew, hearing the racket, thought a riot was in progress. He organized a posse and hurried to San Pedro Point, where he found the Mongolians fighting like demons. A number of them were bitten.

MOTORBOAT DAMAGED UNDER JAMESTOWN ARCH

* NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 30.—Passing under the archway to the government exposition pier, the power yacht Zoraya, owned by Dr. Anthony Schneider, of New York, struck the temporary works supporting the mold over which the arch was built, and narrowly missed destruction, with her owner and crew of ten men.

The yacht lost both masts, her house was badly shattered, and half a dozen stanchions were twisted.

DIES FROM EMOTION; AGED WOMAN VICTIM

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Dean Holt, a richly dressed woman of seventy, fell dead in the place of business of J. A. Heffernan, 23 East Forty-second street, her death being caused by a shock, or deep emotion, which induced apoplexy. The affair has assumed a mysterious quality, and the police and coroner are investigating it.

Mr. Heffernan, who once lived in Cambridge, had received a telephone call and a letter from a woman who asked if he had ever lived there. Finally Mrs. Dean called and after a short conversation, showed him a photograph.

"There," she exclaimed, "I'd you ever see that woman before?" The man was taken by surprise. He reached out for the card and scanned the features.

"Do you know her?" demanded the old lady. "Never saw her in my life," replied the astonished man. "You do not know her?" "Certainly not, madam."

"But," she insisted, "Mr. Thomas told me that—"

The sentence was never finished. The aged woman staggered, half turned, and fell in a heap on the floor. Foam gathered upon her lips, her limbs twitched. She was dead.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

A good liniment or plaster, or some good home remedy will usually give temporary relief from the pain of Rheumatism, but the disease is more than skin deep and cannot be rubbed away, nor can it be drawn out with a plaster. Such treatment neither prevents nor cures; the excess of acid, which produces Rheumatism, is still in the blood and the disease can never be cured while the circulation remains saturated with this irritating, pain-producing uric acid poison. The trouble will shift from place to place, settling on the nerves and causing pain and inflammation at every exposure or after an attack of indigestion or other irregularity. When neglected or improperly treated, Rheumatism becomes chronic and does not depend upon climatic conditions to bring on an attack, but remains a constant, painful trouble. S. S. S. drives out Rheumatism by neutralizing and expelling the excess of acid from the blood. It purifies and invigorates the circulation so that instead of an acid-laden stream, constantly depositing uric acid in the joints, muscles, nerves and bones, the entire system is nourished and made healthy by rich, life-giving blood. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired will be sent free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Reverend
Sam Jones's Widow
Gets $1,000 per Year for Life

The name and the fame of Rev. Sam P. Jones have gone over the nation. While the noted evangelist preached the Gospel with great power, it now transpires that he provided for his wife with great good sense. As a result of this foresight and self-denial is now paying Mrs. Jones $1,000 per year, and will continue to do so during her life. In a recent letter Mrs. Jones thanks the Company for the way in which this matter has been handled. This is all good for Mrs. Jones, but how about the woman yet unprotected and the man yet uninsured? The need is great and certain. The Company is strong and ready. Write and learn more about how such protection can be secured.

The Mutual
Life Insurance Company

The Time to Act is NOW.

For the new forms of policies write to
The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, N. Y.

Or THOS. P. MORGAN, Manager,
1333-1335 F Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

SUMMER PRICES

You want this done as good as any LIVING DENTIST can do it. We will forfeit $1,000 to any charitable institute for any dentist who can surpass in this line of work, or that we don't do as we advertise.

2-KT. GOLD CROWNS..... $3.00
BRIDGEWORK..... $3.00

$10 PLATES, ST. ST. PLATES, $2.
AMALGAM AND CEMENT FILLINGS, 50c.
House 1 to 4, Sunday 10 to 1. Gas administered.

RED CROSS DENTAL OFFICE,
1329 Penna. Ave. N. W.

Electric Light Does Not Soil Anything.

It is the only form of light that is absolutely clean.

Potomac Electric Power Co.
213 Fourteenth Street Northwest

CONTAINS NO ACETANILIDE

Hicks' Capudine—the liquid remedy for all headaches, cold, indigestion pains and sour stomach. Trial bottle 10 cents at Druggists. Get it today

"LITTLE JOHNNY & THE TEDDY BEARS"

Advance Picture No. 2

Copyright, 1907, by Judge Company.

PROFESSOR WISEMAN has discovered the bears animated by little Johnny's use of the professor's Elixir of Life. Never did the knowing scientist suspect such a successful result from the use of his dose. Little Johnny appears to be really more surprised than his father, and the bears themselves have all the appearance of a failure to appreciate their sudden coming to life.

There are other surprises for the Wiseman household in the first chapter of "Little Johnny and the Teddy Bears." Another of them will be printed in black and white in The Times tomorrow, but the pictures give but a very faint idea of the attractiveness of the stunts of Johnny and the "Teddies" when printed in brilliant colors and in attractive form.

The way to follow the antics of the boy and the bears is to begin at the beginning. Put in your order for the

SUNDAY TIMES
For September 1
With the Newsdealer Today

Your Credit Here Is As Good As Your Cash Elsewhere

THE FAMOUS

421-423 Seventh St. Nw.

OUTFITTERS TO MEN & WOMEN

ODDS AND ENDS

Friday and Saturday Will Wind
Up All Our Odds and Ends.
AND YOU CAN HAVE THEM CHARGED

120 Men's Suits, Odds & Ends
That Sold for $12, $15 and $18.
Some are blue serge C. & P.; some worsteds and cassimeres. The bargain event of the season.

$4.90

60 Women's Cloth Suits
That Sold for $15, $20 and $25.
Eton Jackets, wide full skirts; the colors are gray Scotch effects; jackets are silk lined and finely trimmed.

$7.90

Open Late Saturday

CREDIT

Our Famous $3 Men's Hat, $1.90

FALL GOODS

3000 Pairs Men's Fancy Sox, 10c Pair

CREDIT

22 Blk Voile Skirts, Worth $15.00 $5.90

Arriving every day in the Men's and Women's Departments. Come in and look them over. Glad to show you how we can save you money.

The Famous, 421-423 Seventh St. N. W.